Directions

If you are following a satnav, that's great; Punch in the postcode and you will be led straight here. We are Berepper Farm and are situated in the heart of the village of Gunwalloe, right next to the park, coastal path and bus stop. When you are close to the T-junction look to your left and your parking space is just there. You can knock on our door and announce your arrival or pop around the back of the house where you will find Berepper Barns.

If you are following a map, come down the A30 and follow the signs to Helston. Once in Helston follow the signs to Lizard, St Keverne and Coverack. As you go around the Naval Base (RNAS Culdrose) you will see a sign post towards Gunwalloe. Follow the road into the village until you see the park and bus stop in front of you. Here you will turn right and immediately park in the parking space on your right.

Go through the gate, let yourself in, and make yourself at home

There are 3 allocated parking spaces for Berepper Barns in the front of the main house, Berepper Farm, just on the junction. Please park considerately for other users. It is a very short walk to the Courtyard and Cottage.

The Cottage

GENERAL INFORMATION

LIGHTING: You will notice that all the lights in the Cottage are high. If you need a bulb replaced, please let us know and we can arrange a time that is suitable with you and come in and change it for you. Please do not attempt to change it yourself as our lights are not easily accessed without ladders!

HEATING: The central heating is oil-fired. The control panel has been set to suit the season. However, you can change it to suit your needs by turning the thermostat on the wall in the entrance hall.

HOT WATER: The water is heated as it is used – just run the tap/shower for a few seconds and hot water will start to come through.

DRAINAGE: The cottage uses septic tank drainage, so apart from loo roll, please do not put any items in the loo. There is a bin provided.

LIVING AREA

KITCHEN EQUIPMENT: Instruction manuals for all electrical items have been removed from the cottage due to Covid-19, we will send you a pdf of all instruction booklets. If you have any problems operating anything, please get in touch. The washing machine and tumble dryer are stored in your shared outside shed. You will be using this facility at your own risk; hand sanitizer and gloves will be provided. Please leave this space as you would wish to find it. If there is anything else you require, that we have not provided, please ask.

COOKER: The hob on the cooker is touch, to make it work you need to press and hold, not just touch. The oven has normal knobs and should be quite easy to use. You must make sure the clock is not flashing, you don't have to have the correct time.

TV: The remote-control unit will be left on the coffee table, it is a smart TV so please be sure to bring your passwords for your accounts such as Netflix, Amazon etc. All the Freeview channels are tuned on your TV. Don't forget to log out on your departure!

WiFi: You should automatically pick up the broadband signal for your cottage and we will give you the password on arrival "P.S. The kids appreciated the quick WIFI!" – Geoff, Hampshire

BOOKS, WALKING BOOKS, MAPS & GAMES: unfortunately, we have had to remove all the books and games from the cottage, due to Covid-19. There is a small community library in the bus shelter if you wish to borrow or swop a book. This will be at your own risk.

OTHER ESSENTIALS: We think you will find few places as free from light pollution as Berepper Barns. Wonderful as this is, it does make the use of a torch essential when you are returning home in the dark. There is a torch in the kitchen cupboard. Please take it out with you during your stay, but remember to leave it on departure. You will also find a torch in each bedside cupboard in case of a fire or a power cut. A night light, should you like to use it, can be made available.

BOOT BOX: There are wonderful walks from your front door and we hope you enjoy them. For your convenience, there is a boot scraper outside your door and a boot box inside the front door to store muddy boots.

BEDROOMS

"The most comfortable beds ever!" – Emma, Hampshire

ESSENTIALS: In the drawers you will find a hairdryer (main bedroom only). There will be a bath towel and hand towel each; if there is anything else you need please let us know. Please do not take these towels on the beach.

BED LINEN: On your departure, for our safety, please place all bed linen and under sheets in the laundry bag provided. In a separate bag please place all towels, whether you have used them or not. This will help protect us from the virus.

BATHROOM

"a lovely shower!" Des, Hants. "The shower was lush" Nikki, Essex

MIRROR: There is a heated mirror in the bathroom so it doesn't steam up when you are in the shower. To turn it on, there is a switch on the right-hand frame. Please make sure to turn it back off, once used. There is also a sensor at the bottom of the mirror, to turn on the mirror lights. Please make sure you turn it off when you are finished.

OUTSIDE

UTILITY SHED: The shed includes a washing machine and tumble dryer for you to use at your own risk. Next to the shed is an outside shower, for washing off muddy dogs and sandy people. The controls for the shower are in the shed, this is for you to use at your own risk. Please leave the area as you find it and sanitise as you go. We will supply hand sanitiser and gloves.

Unfortunately, the following has had to be removed from the shed for your safety: There are also a few toys and games, kids' wetsuits and buckets and spades. "The washing machine in the shed was very useful 😊 and we also made use of the wetsuits and bodyboards for the kids." – Rob, Oxfordshire

HERB GARDEN: Opposite the utility shed is an herb garden. Please help yourself, if you are planning on cooking. It includes mint, rosemary, fennel, chives and thyme. Please only use these plants if you know what they are, the curry plant is not edible!

REFUSE/ RECYCLING: Please place any black bags next to the gate in the shower area and recycling in the black box provided.

HOUSE RULES

DOGS: We are a very dog friendly community. That said, dogs are not allowed in the bedrooms and please keep them off the sofas. Dogs must not be left in the cottage unattended or in the courtyard, any mess must be cleared up immediately.

OUR HORSES AND YOUR COURTYARD: We have tried to design the courtyard for your holiday, to help you relax outside. If we have guests in the second cottage, please be aware you will share this space, and you must give each other space so you feel safe. Please don't venture beyond the gates of the courtyard, towards the stables and field. If you'd like to see the horses, please ask Clare.

NO WILD PARTIES: We really hope you enjoy your stay with us. But we hope this won't include late night parties; we are in a village and there might be other guests in the cottage next door. Please respect your neighbours.

SMOKING: You will be aware that smoking is not permitted in The Cottage, and we hope you will respect this request. Due to the courtyard being a shared space and the close proximity to the stables and hay/ straw shed, please smoke outside the front gate.

SHOPPING

Please note: Due to the current pandemic, not all facilities are open. Please check before you travel and ask if you have any question, we will try to help as best we can.

Food/Drink:

The market town of Helston has 3 supermarkets: Sainsburys, Tesco and Lidl. It also has a Spar shop, which will have everything you could need. All are open seven days a week. Check opening hours as there are times when it is elderly and NHS only!

Helston also has a Post Office, Museum, Farmers' Market on the 1st Saturday of each month, and a small boating lake, play park and skate park. There are also many take-away restaurants including Indian, Chinese, Fish and Chips, Thai and Domino's (Domino's deliver to Berepper Barns). "Italian in Helston (Guisseppes), food is great!" Sam, Essex PORTHLEVEN is a lovely harbour town approximately 1-1 1/2 hour walk or a 15-minute drive from the Cottages. There are a host of lovely restaurants, Cornish pubs, deli's, cafes, street food and take-aways. There are also some beautiful shops in Porthleven, with many local artists and silversmiths offering their wares.

FALMOUTH, a lovely harbour town, is a 30-minute drive from the Cottages. It has a good selection of small, independent shops, restaurants and cafes. Falmouth is larger than Porthleven and has a wonderful Maritime Museum, Beach, Yacht Harbour and many interesting places to visit.

TRURO is Cornwall's only city and so has a wide range of chain stores as well as many interesting independent shops.

EATING/DRINKING OUT

Please note: Due to the current pandemic, not all facilities are open. Please check before you travel and ask if you have any question, we will try to help as best we can.

Our 'local' and firm favourite is the award winning Halzephron Inn <http://halzephron-inn.co.uk/> – just down the road! There is a bar and restaurant and stunning views from the benches outside. If you want to eat at the pub in the evening, it's best to call and book a table. Sunday lunches are very popular, as is Tuesday night's pub quiz. If you want a full English breakfast in the morning, you need to order it the night before. You can also get a delicious cream tea at the Inn in the afternoons. 01326 240406.

"We really enjoyed watching the sunset with a drink at the Halzephron Inn."
Amy, Bournemouth. "Great food, dog and baby friendly!"- Nikki, Essex. "we also suggest going to the pub quiz on Tuesday, lots of fun and only £1 / person." – Sharon, Lancaster

Another great place for breakfast is Poldhu Beach <http://www.poldhu.com/>
This is a one-hour walk from the Cottage along the cliff path, or you can drive to Church Cove, just one mile down the road, and it is then a short 15-min walk over the headland. (You will need to be a National Trust member for free parking or take some change.) You can also rent wet suits and surf boards by the café, and get surf lessons!

For stunning views, while you are enjoying a breakfast or lunch, it's hard to beat Polpear Café at Lizard point. Make this a destination for a coastal walk (either from Cadgwith or Kynance Cove) or drive down to Lizard village and walk down a little further to Lizard point. If Polpear Café is full, then Wavecrest Café <https://wavecrestcornwall.co.uk/> just above, is very good too. Lizard point is the most southerly point in England, and is a must visit destination. "I loved the icecream at the Lizard Café after a walk in the sun." – Sascha, Plymouth

Fat Apples <https://www.fatapplescafe.uk/> is another great place, on the Lizard peninsula, for lunch. You need to drive to St. Keverne, then head towards Porthallow. Fat Apples is on your right. For walkers, it's a good place to plan walks from St. Keverne to Porthoutstock, Porthkerris, then back to St. Keverne via Fat Apples.

Roskilly's <https://www.roskillys.co.uk/> is also a popular lunch and evening destination, just outside of Coverack. Ice cream is a favourite, but their pizzas in the evening are also popular.

Porthleven has a number of restaurants and cafes, for all budgets and tastes. You can also get a good Cornish pasty in Porthleven, as you can in most towns in Cornwall. "Highly recommend Amelies in Porthleven for dinner, delicious food and very friendly staff." – Louisa, Cotswolds

We do have a favourite pasty shop, if you are up for a little exploration of the head of the Helford river. Drive through Mawgan (exit Gunwalloe, turn right on the main road, turn left at the roundabout, then second left at your next roundabout) and then continue on the windy narrow Cornish lane, through the village and then over the creek twice. About five minutes out of Mawgan you'll see Gear Farm <https://gearfarm.co.uk/>, on your right. Their pasties are outstanding. Rather than returning directly back to Mawgan, you can continue on the windy lane, you'll come to St Martin. Make a right turn, that will bring you back out to the Lizard road that connects St. Keverne (to your left) to your return (to your right). Gear Farm is open!

Finally, for real ale aficionados and those who love a very traditional pub experience, a visit to the Blue Anchor <http://www.spingoales.com/> in Helston is a must. The Blue Anchor is home to the oldest brewery in Cornwall, Spingo Ale. it is also one of the few remaining pubs in Britain that brews its own beer. Their "Special" is a real treat, but it's best to only drink one.

OUR FOUR BEACHES

Please be aware there is limited lifeguard presence due to the pandemic. Be careful of off shore winds if you have an inflatable, spring tides and large swells. If you have any concerns you can listen to the local radio or please ask, we will try to help.

"beautiful walks, peaceful location, bubbly on the beach. Perfection." James Church Cove: Church Cove is the most popular of our four beaches for families looking for a nice relaxing time. You can swim, and there is a lifeguard during the six weeks of the summer holiday. Dogs are not allowed on this beach between Easter and the end of September. You should pay a visit to the 15th century church that's nestled in the corner of the beach; it is always open.

Dollar Cove: Next to Church Cove is Dollar Cove. Dollar Cove is dog-friendly, it is also good for swimming and relaxing. It is a little rockier than Church Cove, rock pooling is a fun activity for young kids! Dollar Cove is heavily featured in the final episode of the Poldark series! "Things we enjoyed – walking to Dollar Cove and playing in the rockpools." – Rob, Oxfordshire

Both Church Cove and Dollar Cove are next to a National Trust car park, and a 25-minute walk from your cottage (walk past the pub). There is also a small café that serves the area, that is open during the busier season.

Fishing Cove: The closest beach to your cottage is Fishing Cove, which you can see as you begin to walk down the cliff path. There is a road opposite the pub that also takes you down to the beach, with limited parking spaces. PLEASE do not swim on this beach, it can be quite dangerous. It is a lovely long beach that is dog-friendly; you can find yourself on your own, strolling down this beach. On a pleasant summer evening, take a barbeque down to the beach, it is a fantastic experience. You can also fish from this beach.

"Tom caught mackerel and sand eel at Fisherman's Cove" – Ailsa, Somerset.

"Fishing Cove was great for walking the dog and a very quiet beach." – Nikki, Essex. "So many highlights, from evening barbecues on the beach to..." – Caspar, London

Loe Bar: On the way to Porthleven, you cross Loe Bar. Loe Bar is connected to Fishing Cove, and the same applies: it's dog-friendly, not swimming friendly, good for a barbeque and fishing. "lovely evening with a beach barbecue on Loe Bar, what an amazing sunset!" Ailsa, Somerset

In addition to these four beaches, you might want to pop over to Poldhu beach, just over the cove from Church Cove. Poldhu is a very popular beach for swimming and surfing, it also has a fantastic café that's open 363 days a year (not Flora Day or Christmas Day). You can rent wet suits and surf boards from the café, and get surf lessons! "I've tried surfing for the first time. It was awesome!" Meg, Warwick

WALKS FROM THE COTTAGE

"Easy access for some fantastic walks around the southern tip of the country." – Fraya, Devon

"We've had some stunning walks and really don't want to leave." Fliss, Leicestershire

"Amazing base for lovely long walks." Sam, Essex

"Very good recommended coastal walks, thank you!" – Sharon, Lancaster

Porthleven: Walking from the carpark across the road to the coastal path, you will follow this path down to Loe Beach. Walk straight across the beach and up the ramp, keeping the sea on your left. Continue following the path with the sea on your left until you reach Porthleven. 1 hour 15-minute walk. "We walked the coastpath to Porthleven, which was beautiful." – Richard, Hampton

Church Cove via Halzephron Cliff: From the carpark cross the road and follow the coastal path, just past the first bench you will see a sign post to the left. Follow the coast path signs, keeping the sea on your right, until you reach Church Cove. Not only is there a beautiful beach, but you can also visit the only church in Cornwall that sits on a beach. It's a 35-minute walk.

Poldhu Café: Follow the above directions to Church Cove then continue on the path across the beach and over the cliff to Poldhu Beach. One hour walk.

Mullion: Walking from Berepper Barns this is a longer walk that will take you up to 2.5 hours each way. As you walk you will pass through Poldhu beach and past the Marconi Centre, where there is a small museum and some history of the first transatlantic radio signal (check opening times for the museum as it is often shut). Heading towards Mullion you will pass through Polurian Beach and onto Mullion Harbour. You can stop at Poldhu, Polurian Hotel and Mullion Harbour for lunches and snacks. A spectacular walk and well worth taking the time to take in the views.

Woodland walk: As you leave the courtyard turn right (away from the car park), after a short distance follow the footpath sign on your left. Walk across the daffodil fields following the path and over the 2 stiles. You will come to a gate on your right-hand side which leads to a track, go through this gate. When you get to the end of the track turn right, then just before the farm yard turn left and over the stile (this is tricky to spot, but it's there). Walk down the field and through the gate into the woods. The woods are a sea of colour in the spring time, with carpets of bluebells, daffodils, and other wild flowers. Continue through the woods until you get to Loe Pool at the bottom of the hill. Once you reach the track turn left and follow the path around Loe Pool. This is a beautiful lake, the largest fresh water lake in Cornwall. Look out for swans, signets, herons and other wildlife. If you continue along the path you will reach Loe Bar. Head towards the sea where you will find the cliff path, on your left, which will take you back to Berepper Barns. If you go across Loe Bar, instead, you will head to Porthleven. "Woodland walk, perfect!!!" Mark, Bucks

Shorter circular walk: As you leave the courtyard turn right (away from the car park), after a short distance follow the footpath sign on your left. Walk across the daffodil fields following the path and over the 2 stiles. You will come to a gate on your right-hand side which leads to a track, go through this gate. When you get to the end of the track turn left on the road. Go through the car park and continue along the track. You will then turn left, onto a footpath, just as you see the sea in front of you, by a gateway. Follow the footpath along to the cliff path. Bear left on the cliff path, this then brings you back to Berepper Barns. A forty-minute walk, with no steep gradients.

The first bench: Walking from the carpark across the road to the coastal path, you can walk a couple of hundred yards, and there is a bench to your left. It offers a beautiful view towards Halzephron Cliff. Bring a cup of coffee, some breakfast or your favourite beverage. If someone else is doing the same, you can continue along the top path for another couple of hundred yards, you will see the second bench. This bench provides glorious views over Mounts Bay to the Lands' End peninsula. "Loved having coffee on the bench down the lane." Sam, Essex

Other Walks

The Lizard peninsula has some stunning walks. We will be happy to drive out with you to drop your car off at one point, and then drive you to another point. Just let Clare know, via her mobile phone. The following are some example walks:

Rinsey to Porthleven There is lots of mining history at Rinsey, and spectacular views overlooking the cliffs to a beautiful harbour village. It is a stunning walk with a hilly terrain.

Directions: Drive back to Helston and follow the signs to Penzance, past Porthleven you will see a sign post to Rinsey, there is a car park. 1 hour each way.

Mullion to Kynance Cove: From Mullion Harbour you can follow the coastal path to Kynance Cove. You will walk around Predannack where the wild qualities of this windswept headland and wild-flower strewn cliffs provided the location for many of Poldark's charges on horseback.

Kynance Cove to Lizard Point: Kynance Cove is renowned as one of the most beautiful places in Cornwall. But it remains beautiful all the way to the Lizard. Stop at the most southerly café in England for spectacular views while you have your breakfast, or lunch, a cup of coffee or a bottle of beer. "We walked the coastal path from Kynance Cove to Lizard Point, stopping for lunch at the Wavecrest Café – very good!" – Nikki, Essex

Lizard Point to Cadgwith Cove: Another gorgeous walk, every part of this incredible peninsular has the same ruggedness, beauty and spectacular views, but at the same time, around every corner there is something different. Cadgwith is a picturesque Cornish fishing village, which is still active. The pub is a traditionally thatched building and hosts the famous Cadgwith Singers every Friday night.

Note: You can walk from your cottage to Lizard Point (10 miles) or even Cadgwith Cove (13+ miles). This can take anywhere from 5 to 8 hours, depending on stops along the way. If you'd like to do this walk, then let us know. We can coordinate dropping off your car at Cadgwith or Lizard village, before you begin. Similarly, if you want to walk from Kynance Cove to Cadgwith Cove (about 3 hours), we can coordinate a pick up, so you don't need to walk back.

"Alex kindly helped drop the car at Cadgwith, allowing us to complete a one-way 16-mile stroll. The coffee at Poldhu is highly recommended, and the scenery throughout, magnificent. We spotted seals at the Lizard Café (also great) & enjoyed a couple of well-deserved beers at Cadgwith Cove." Sam, Devon. "We enjoyed a great walk from the barn all the way to Cadgwith! Sunburn – and a lot of sweat – later, we made it!" Alice, Somerset

Once on foot, pass Kestle Barton on your right and take the next footpath sign on your left. You will follow this path down a long hill, through woodland, you will then see a sign 'Footpath Along Frenchman's Creek (permissive). Follow this trail.

At the bottom of the hill you will see Frenchman's Creek, continue along the path with the Creek on your left. You will come to a split in the path, take the right-hand track which will start to take you back up the hill (you might be able to continue along the Creekside path but we haven't investigated, yet).

At the end of this path you will reach a concrete farm lane, turn right. There is a sign on this junction pointing back the way you came saying National Trust, Frenchman's Creek. At the end of the field you walk next to you will find a left-hand turn, sign posted Helford Via Penarvon Cove (permissive path), turn left here.

Continue to follow the signs to Penarvon Cove until you reach a small hamlet and a little beach. This is a lovely place to stop and take a paddle or just admire the view.

Walk across the beach where you will see a Public Footpath sign, follow this route back into woodland. At the end of this path you will reach a small road, turn left and it will bring you into the village of Helford, just next to the Shipwrights pub. A great place for a drink, lunch or a snack.

Once you have had refreshments and are back on your journey, walk into the village of Helford. You will walk past the post office, over the bridge and turn right. This will bring you back onto the footpath, which is sign posted KB Kestle Barton. Continue along the track following the signs for KB and you will arrive at Kestle Barton. There is a holiday cottage complex that you walk around and it will bring you to the art gallery and gardens. It is a lovely place to visit, or you can just walk back to your car by the entrance. Kestle Barton is closed on Mondays except Bank Holidays.

SPECTACULAR SUNSETS

You have a few choices to view spectacular sunsets in our village, all short walks from your cottage. Depending on the time of year, the sun will set at various points over the Lands' End peninsula.

Head down to Fishing Cove beach! It's hard to beat a beach barbeque followed by a sunset over the sea. Just please make sure you leave the beach as you find it.

You can also take a shorter walk from the cottage and head to the first bench. If someone else has had the same idea, then go a little further along to the second bench. Both of these benches will provide spectacular views in the evenings, along with the necessary tranquillity to enjoy the experience.

The Helford River

Please check if a place is open before travelling!

While we love the rugged beauty of the coast on the Lizard peninsula, for a change of pace you might also enjoy a visit to the Helford river. The river has a long history of smuggling, that was popularized by Daphne du Maurier's novel Frenchman's Creek. Be aware though, the roads get very narrow; however, this is Cornwall and you should experience our single track roads!

The village of Helford lies on the south of the river, and includes the Shipwright Arms <http://www.shipwrightshelford.co.uk/>, Holy Mackerel Café, Post Office, a Village shop and the Helford River Sailing Club. The village is very pretty, with a narrow lane that runs through the middle. You should park at the car park you see as you enter the village and take a stroll through the village. At the bottom of the village, past the pub, there is a path that takes you to a foot ferry crossing to the Ferry Boat Inn, on the opposite side of the river.

On the north bank, opposite the Helford, is the Ferry Boat Inn <https://ferryboatcornwall.co.uk/> To drive here, you'd head towards Falmouth and drive through Mawnan Smith. Another great spot for a bite to eat or refreshment. In front of the pub is a small and very safe beach, great for swimming, boat hire and for kids to enjoy. Between both pubs, you'll see plenty of sailing yachts anchored, and the views are very relaxing. Again, you have the option to take the foot ferry over to Helford, to further explore the area.

If you enjoy a stroll around a beautiful garden, then the Helford includes two great places to visit, both on the north coast of the Helford river, and close to Mawnan Smith and Falmouth.

Trebah Garden <http://www.trebahgarden.co.uk/> is a 26-acre sub-tropical garden, which is open year-round. Not only are the gardens spectacular, but they continue down to a beach on the Helford river that served as a launch for one of the many boats heading across for the D-Day landings.

Glendurgan Garden <https://www.nationaltrust.org.uk/glendurgan-garden>, is just before Trebah Gardens and owned by the National Trust. The stunning gardens extend down to a sheltered beach in the hamlet of Durgan. The gardens are full of natural beauty and a maze that was built over 180 years ago that is still foxing people today!

The river comes to an end at Gweek, which includes the Gweek Seal Sanctuary, a pub (The Black Swan <https://www.theblackswangweek.co.uk/>), a café and a shop. Gweek is actually the closest village to Gunwalloe that's not on the coast; it lies on the opposite side of Culdrose.

Gweek Seal Sanctuary is open but you must purchase your ticket online and book your visiting time. You will be refused entry if you haven't got a ticket.

DAYS OUT

Please check for any restrictions before travelling to local towns & villages

Everywhere in Cornwall is accessible from Gunwalloe and few places are more than an hour's drive away. If you require any leaflets or brochures please let us know:

Newquay (55 minutes) has Fistral Beach where some of the world's best surfing championships take place, Crantock and Watergate Bay are also stunning beaches, very different from the South Coast. Perranporth (40 minutes) has surfers all year round and a lively pub right on the beautiful beach.

Going further west, visit Mousehole (pronounced Mowzel) with its charming horseshoe harbour, the Minack Theatre at Porthcurno, and St Michael's Mount (all approximately forty minutes);

ADDITIONAL LOCAL ATTRACTIONS

Please check opening times, ticket buying and restrictions before travelling to any local attractions

Poldark Mine: <http://www.poldarkmine.org.uk/> While there was no tin mining on the Lizard peninsula, the industry thrived close by. A preserved example for visitors is in Wendron, just the other side of Helston. The Poldark mine was renamed because it was used in the first Poldark series, filmed in the 1970s. Your visit includes a museum, as well as an underground tour with a guide.

Gweek Seal Sanctuary: <http://www.sealsanctuary.co.uk/corn1.html> Gweek is at the head of the Helford river, and the seal sanctuary enables you to see seals that are either permanent residents or being rehabbed to return to their natural habitat. The sanctuary does great work for the seals, who are also frequent visitors to our own beaches in Gunwalloe. Gweek is a charming local village which also includes a pub, the Black Swan <https://www.theblackswangweek.co.uk/> a post office / shop and a recently opened café. A fish and chip van visits every Wednesday evening.

Lizard Adventure: <https://www.lizardadventure.co.uk/> If you're seeking outdoor adventures on the coast, Lizard Adventure offers plenty of options, including kayaking, rock climbing and coasteering. Activities are available in a variety of locations including Mullion, Lizard village and Cadgwith. "coasteering - brilliant fun for all the family & all confidence levels" – Cath, Bucks.

Marine Discovery, Penzance: <http://www.marinediscovery.co.uk/> Discover the marine life in Mounts Bay on Marine Discovery's Catamaran boat tours. They depart from Penzance, a popular sea-side town which includes the only promenade in Cornwall.

Newton Equestrian Centre: <http://www.newton-equestrian.co.uk/> If you want to go riding on the local beaches or the beautiful moorland of Goonhilly, then check these guys out. Guests have loved it, any age, any level of riding.

SURFING, GOLFING AND FISHING

Please check opening times, ticket buying and restrictions before travelling to any activities

For those who are seeking surfing lessons, we can recommend two options: The Dan Joel Surf School on Poldhu beach and the Gwithian Academy of Surfing <https://www.surfacademy.co.uk/> (St. Ives). Surfing on Poldhu beach is dependent on the tide time, but is a short drive, or a longer walk, from your barn. Surfing at Gwithian does not depend on the tide time. Just bring your swim wear, a towel and sun cream.

Mullion Golf Course: Mullion Golf Club is the most southerly golf course in England, it sits between Church Cove and Poldhu. The views from the course out to Mounts Bay are spectacular. Visit <https://www.mulliongolfclub.co.uk/visitors/visitors-information/> for more information and for tee time booking. It costs £40 per person to play, let us know if you plan to do this, we can get you a 20% discount.

Fishing from Fishing Cove and Loe Bar: No fishing licenses are required to fish any part of the coast. From Loe Bar and Fishing Cove beaches, you can fish for mackerel and bass on spinners, and dog fish, bass and rays with bait.

National Maritime Museum, Falmouth: <https://nmmc.co.uk/> This museum explores the rich maritime history of the area. It includes interactive displays that are a hit with children. It also has a year-round display, which currently focuses on Titanic Stories. The museum is on the waterfront in Falmouth, and is surrounded by an assortment of restaurants and cafes.

Tate, St Ives: <https://www.tate.org.uk/visit/tate-st-ives> Overlooking the Atlantic Ocean, the Tate has been recently refurbished and includes an assortment of art exhibitions and collections.

Helston Museum: <https://museumofcornishlife.co.uk/> If you're a history buff, the Helston museum is a great place to explore the local history of the area. Kids will enjoy it, too. It might not be the most organized museum, but it has a wealth of local artefacts. It's also free to visit.

Eden Project, St Austell: <https://www.edenproject.com/> The two biomes of the Eden Project highlight collections from many diverse climates and environments. It's one of the most popular tourist attractions in Cornwall.

Telegraph Museum, Porthcurno: <https://telegraphmuseum.org/> Lands End and the Lizard are rich in telecommunications history. While we have the Marconi Museum (in Poldhu, but you need to check if it's open) the Telegraph Museum at Porthcurno, just below Lands End, is terrific, detailed and includes interactive exhibits. If the weather then brightens up, visit Porthcurno beach (stay in the same car park), it is superb.

Flambards, Helston: <https://www.flambards.co.uk/> Flambards is on the way to Helston. Its popular indoor exhibits include a Victorian Village and Britain in the Blitz.

One2eleven, Helston: <https://www.one2eleven.co.uk/> Next to Flambards, a great indoor play area for the kids.

Or go surfing, you're going to get wet, anyway!
